

New Trends in Human Trafficking: Legislative, Victim Advocacy and Prosecutorial Updates

Wednesday, October 30, 2013, 6:00-8:00pm
New York City Bar Association

Featured speakers include:

Sienna Baskin

Co-Director of the Sex Workers Project at the Urban Justice Center

Laura Matthews-Jolly

Staff Attorney at Immigrant Women & Children Project at the City Bar Justice Center

Kate Mogulescu

Supervising Attorney of Trafficking Victims Advocacy Project at the Legal Aid Society

John Temple

Attorney-in-Charge of Human Trafficking Program at the Manhattan DA's Office

Discussion moderated by:

Suzanne Tomatore

Director of the Immigrant Women & Children Project at the City Bar Justice Center

Please join us at the New York City Bar Association for this dynamic panel discussion that will address changes that need to be made in order to effectively fight human trafficking. Issues to be focused on include current laws and policies, lessons learned from recent national and local prosecutorial efforts, and whether victim services should be detangled from victim cooperation with law enforcement.

This event is free; however, space is limited.

Please RSVP to lmattews-jolly@nycbar.org by October 25, 2013 with your name and organization.

Co-sponsored by the:

